

Rio Tinto welcomes Dhamani as a Select Atelier for Argyle Pink Diamonds

11 January 2017

Rio Tinto is delighted to welcome Middle East luxury jeweller, Dhamani as a Select Atelier for Argyle Pink Diamonds.

Dhamani joins an exclusive group of master craftsman and luxury jewellers with access to a direct supply of Australia's rare Argyle pink diamonds and entrusted with transforming Argyle pink diamonds into exquisite jewellery.

Argyle Pink Diamonds manager Josephine Johnson said "Dhamani are an exciting Middle East luxury jeweller with over four decades of heritage and superb craftsmanship. The DPINK Collection is a glittering tribute to the beauty of Argyle's pink diamonds and a powerful statement of Dhamani's world-class luxury. We are delighted to welcome them as an Argyle Pink Diamonds Select Atelier."

Established in 1969 Dhamani is a second generation family business with a passion for rare diamonds and heirloom pieces of jewellery. Dhamani chief executive officer and managing director Amit Dhamani said "Since 1969 our family has been tirelessly devoted to working with the world's rarest diamonds. Our new relationship with Argyle Pink Diamonds is a wonderful honour and showcases our commitment to working with the finest partners to support our prized client base of international jewellery connoisseurs."

The official launch of Dhamani as an Argyle Pink Diamonds Select Atelier occurred against the backdrop of Dubai Shopping Festival with the DPINK collection showcasing more than US$25 million of Argyle pink diamond jewellery.
